Writ to the escheator to take the proof of age of the said Margery, the lands &c. being in the wardship of Margery de Daventre by the king's commission, 3 September, 10 Edward III.

Endorsed by the escheator that he had warned the said Margery to be present but she took no care to come, or to send any one on her behalf.

York. Proof of age, Thursday before St. Matthew, 10 Edward III.

Richard le Speller, aged 62 years, says that the said Margery was born at Kirkedrax, co. William de Rocehohn, aged 42 years, says the like, and knows it because in the same month in which the said Margery was born he had a son named Roger dead, and buried in the cemetery of the said church.

Laurence de Scurth, aged 42 years, says the like, and knows it because he had a sister named Joan dead in the same week in which the said Margery was born; and from that time 17 years have elapsed.

William de Pontibus, aged 41 years, says the like, and knows it because in the same week in which the said Margery was born he married Emma, daughter of Robert de Brokhole; and from that time 17 years have elapsed.

Henry son of Milicent de Neuland, aged 60 years, says the like, and knows it because in the same week in which the said Elizabeth (sic) was born he took the office of steward of John le Chaumberleyn of Drax, and made oath to him to hold his courts there, and well and faithfully to serve them; and from that time 17 years have elapsed.

Thomas Huberd, aged 58 years, says the like, and knows it because in the same month in which the said Margery was born there was made a divorce between the said Thomas and Agnes, then his wife, before the church (in facie ecclesie); and from that time 17 years have elapsed.

John son of Robert de Roceholm, aged 40 years, says the like, and knows it because in the same week in which the said Margery was born his said father Robert died, and was buried in the cemetery of the said church; and from that time 17 years have elapsed.

Robert de Bisogge, aged 46 years, says the like, and knows it because in the same month in which the said Margery was born he had a son named John made a canon in the priory of Wartre; and from that time 17 years have elapsed.

C. Edw. III. File 49. (10.)

68. Elias, son and heir of John Daubeneye.

Writ to the escheator to take the proof of age of the said Elias, the lands &c. being in the wardship of Robert de Shawe by the king's commission, 4 August, 10 Edward III.

Southampton. Proof of age, 2 October, 10 Edward III (defective and defaced).

Elias de Godele, aged 50 years, says that the said Elias, son and heir of the said John, was 21 years of age at the feast of St. Michael last, for he was born at Westperle, in the witness's manor of Westperle, co. Southampton, and baptized in the church of All Saints there, on the said feast, 9 Edward II; and this he knows because he lifted the said Elias son of John from the font, and inscribed the day of his birth in a certain missal of the said church, on the day and year aforesaid.

Roger Bubbe, aged 43 years, agrees, and adds that at that time he was a clerk of Elias de Godele, being in his company when, on the same day, he came from the assizes taken at Sarum before John de Foxle and John de Westcote, and from their company the said Elias withdrew to lift the said Elias son of John from the font.

John the cook (cocus), aged 52 years, agrees, and adds that on the said feast of St. Michael, 9 [Edward II], he was bailiff of the said Elias de Godele's manor aforesaid, and that the said Elias his lord on his way to the church to lift the boy from the font, commanded him to be on the morrow of the following day before his auditors, prepared with rolls and tallies, to render his account for the year then last past.

Reginald the clerk, of Brommore, aged 55 years, agrees, and adds that he is a near neighbour of Elias de Godele, and met him on the said feast of St. Michael, 9 Edward II, when he went with the boy to the church to lift him from the font, and begged the said Elias to be of his counsel in a certain assize of novel disseisin against John le Couk, before the justices assigned to take assizes in the county of Southampton, and so he always remembered the birth of the said Elias son of John, and especially by the date of the said writ of novel disseisin.

John Ingram, aged 61 years, agrees, and adds that he was at that time a gardener of Sir Hugh de Courtenay, now earl of Devon, in his manor of Brommore, and that Elias de Godele, on the feast of St. Michael, 9 Edward II, came from Salisbury through the manor of Brommore . . . . . his manor of Westperle, to survey a certain plot where the said Elias de Godele . . . . . came to the said Elias's house of Westperle, heard how . . . . . to the said Elias de Godele the birth of the said Elias son of John, and so always afterwards . . . . . .

William atte Roudes, aged 48 years, agrees, and adds that on Monday next . . . . . , 9 Edward II, he espoused Isabel . . . . . the same day as the said Elias de Godele and Cristina his wife were in . . . . . the said Cristina wife of the said Elias de Godele . . . . . Daubeneye bore a son, Elias by name, on the feast of St. Michael next . . . . . .

Roger Alfer, aged 47 years, says the like, and knows it because on the Tuesday following he purchased a messuage and a carucate of land in Migham of Walter Foliet, and on the same day Elias de Godele, in his manor of Westperle, indited a charter of enfeoffment of the said land, and then he saw the said Elias son of John carried in the arms of his nurse before the said Elias de Godele.

Roger Groucy, aged 63 years, agrees, and knows it because on Sunday next after the feast of St. Michael, 9 Edward II, it was agreed, at the said Elias de Godele's manor of Westperle, between the said Roger and Elias that the said Roger should espouse Margaret, sister of the said Elias, and there he saw the said Elias son of John.

Robert atte Halle, aged 45 years, agrees, and knows it of a truth (veraciter) because, together with the said Elias de Godele, he lifted the said Elias son of John from the font.

Robert de Shawe was present at the taking of this proof but said nothing against it.

C. Edw. III. File 49. (11.)

C. Edw. III. File 49. (12.)

70. John de Nowers.

Writ of plenius certiorari, because to a previous writ the escheator had returned that having found by an inquisition taken ex officio that the said John held a messuage and a carucate of land in Nethercolewyk, of the king in chief by knight's service, as of the honour of Peverel which was in the king's hand, and because after the death of the said John, his son and heir John entered upon the premises without process of the king's court, and without doing the accustomed services to the king, the escheator therefore took the same into the king's hand ; and now the said John son of John informs the king that his father did not hold any lands or tenements of the king in chief, but that he held the said messuage &c. of Grace de Nowers, lady of Stokegoldyngton, by service of a quarter of a knight's fee, and seeks that they may be delivered to him. C. Edw. III. File 49. (14.)

72. Margaret, late the wife of Nicholas de Haveryng.

Writ of plenius certiorari, because it was found by an inquisition made by Robert de Holewell, escheator, that the said Margaret held, on the day she died, 4*l.* of yearly rent in Lachyndon, which rent is parcel of a certain manor called 'Tieledehalle' in the same town, which [manor] sometime was of Henry Graponel, who held it of the king in chief by service of a knight's fee, and by rendering at the castle of Dover 10*s.* ; but now, as well by certain evidences exhibited in the chancery, as by the insinuation of several persons, the king hears that the said 4*l.* are a rent issuing from the manor aforesaid, and not a parcel of the same, and that a certain part of the manor, viz. 66*a.* land and 40*a.* marsh, is held of the king in chief by service of rendering at the castle of Dover 10*s.* yearly, and the site and all the residue of the said manor are held of the prior of Christchurch, Canterbury, by certain services ; and the aforesaid Robert has signified to the king that for want of jurors he did not take an inquisition upon the manor of Chalkwelle, which was of the said Margaret on the day of her death ; 19 March, 10 Edward III.

* This feast falls on November 6.

Essex. Inq. taken at Rocheford, 26 March, 10 Edward III.

Lachedon. The said Margaret held 4*l.* rent to be received yearly from the manor called Teyledhalle in the same town, which [manor] was sometime of Henry Grapenel; and the said 4*l.* are a chartered rent issuing from the said manor, and pertaining to the manor of Chalkewelle, and not a parcel of the manor of Teyledhalle. A certain part of the latter manor, viz. 66*a.* land and 40*a.* marsh, is held of the king by service of rendering at the castle of Dover 10*s.* yearly, and the site and all the residue of the same manor are held of the prior of Christchurch, Canterbury, by service of rendering yearly 8*s.* and a ploughshare and suit at the prior's court of Lallingg. Hereford, after the marriage between him and the said Maud, he demised that manor to John de Bykerton and Maud his wife for their lives, with reversion to the said John de la Barwe and his heirs; and the said John de Bykerton and Maud his wife died, and thereupon by reason of the minority of Stephen, son and heir of the said John de la Barwe, the manor was taken into the king's hand, being held of the king in chief, and the said Maud, late the wife of John de la Barwe, has not yet been dowered therefrom, 30 January, 10 Edward III.

Hereford. Inq. 13 February, 11 Edward III.

Bykerton. John de Barwe was seised of the manor after the marriage between him and Maud his wife, so that he could dower her therefrom. Afterwards he demised that manor to John de Bykerton and Maud his wife for their lives, with reversion to himself and his heirs for ever. The manor was taken into the king's hand because the said John de Bykerton and Maud his wife died, and by reason of the minority of Stephen, son and heir of the said John de Barwe. The said Stephen is in the king's wardship, because John his father held a certain tenement of the king in chief. The manor is held of Joan de Genevyle by service of a quarter of a knight's fee.

78. John Dargentem or Dargenthem.

Writ of certiorari, whereas king Edward II, on 27 March, in the 17th year of his reign, among the advowsons of churches which were of the said John, who held of the said king in chief, and which, by reason of his death, were taken into the said king's hand, which also he assigned to Agnes, late the wife of the said John, to hold in dower, assigned to her the advowson of the chapel of SS. Simon and Jude, Newmarket; and now on her behalf it is petitioned that whereas there is but one chapel in Newmarket of the patronage of the said John, which is known as that of St. Mary, and not as that of SS. Simon and Jude, in case of a vacancy in the said chapel, she would be damnified as to her presentation to the same, because of its incorrect designation in the above assignment ; the escheator is commanded to make inquisition. 28 June, 10 Edward III.

Suffolk. Inq. Tuesday after the Translation of St. Thomas the Martyr, 10 Edward III.

Newmarket. There was, and is, a certain chapel in the town of Newmarket, which was of the patronage of Sir John Dargenthem on the day he died, and it was known, and still is known, as the ancient chapel of St. Mary, and was never known as the chapel of SS. Simon and Jude. There is no chapel in the town, except one, which is called the new chapel of St. Mary, and is of the patronage of the prior of Thetteforth Monacorum, annexed to the parish church of Wode Dytton.

Writ of certiorari, whereas the king understands that the said John, who held of the king's father in chief, was seised on the day he died of the manors of Ixnyng, cos. Cambridge and Suffolk, and Fordham, co. Essex, which were not contained in the inquisitions then made because certain (charters ?) concerning them were in the custody of the prior of Wilmundeley and Giles Dargentem, whereof the escheator could not have inspection, and on the said king's further mandate, the escheator signified that he had inspected two charters exhibited by the said prior and Giles, containing that Reginald Dargentem granted to John his son and Joan his wife, all the lands &c. which he had in Ixnyng and Newmarket, except a service of thirty horse shoes, and all his lands &c. in Fordham, except the service of a certain tenant, to hold to them and the heirs of their bodies ; which being read before men of those towns, summoned to the inquisition, they said precisely that they knew not those charters, that the said John and Joan entered by the enfeoffment of the said Reginald by other charters, and that the manor of Ixnyng is not held of the king but of some other, wherefore the wardship of the said manors did not pertain to the said king by reason of the minority of John son and heir of the said John for that turn (illa vice) ; whereupon the said prior and Giles asserted that they had no other charters nor had found any after the death of the said John ; the escheator is commanded to enquire whether the said John held the said manors, and in what manner &c. 14 January, 10 Edward III (defaced).

Cambridge and Suffolk. Inq. Sunday after the Conversion of St. Paul, 11 Edward III.

Ixningge and Newmarket. The manor was given by Reginald Dargentem by a charter to John his son and Joan his wife and the heirs of their bodies &c. (as abovesaid) excepting the advowson of the old chapel of Newmarket, the profits of a fair there on the feast of SS. Simon and Jude, and a service of 30 horse-shoes yearly from a smithy (fabrica) in Newmarket, with reversion to the said Reginald and his heirs ; but it was not given by the charter which is in the hands of the prior of Wilmundeleye and Giles Dargentem, but by another charter in whose hands the jury know not.

The said manor is held of Robert de Lyle de la March by service of a sore sparrowhawk yearly.

Joan aged 24, whom John le Boteler married, and Elizabeth aged 23, whom William le Boteler married, daughters of the said John and Joan, are their heirs of the said manor, excepting the advowson, profits and serviee aforesaid.

NORFOLK, CAMBRIDGE. William de Huntyngfeld, son and heir of Roger de Huntyngfeld, gives to the king 25*s.* for his relief of all the lands and tenements, which the said Roger held of the king in chief, viz. of a quarter of a knight's fee in Bokesworth, co. Cambridge, as he acknowledged, and as it was found in the book of fees.

The same William gives to the king other 25*s.* for relief of the said Roger his father, nephew and heir of Joan de Huntyngfeld, of all the lands and tenements which the said Joan held of the king in chief, viz. of the said quarter of a knight's fee. Afterwards he paid 25*s.* for his own relief. And for the remaining 25*s.* he has a day, the morrow of St. Hilary; on which day he paid by a tally of the exchequer.

And in the book of fees of the exchequer, for co. Cambridge, it is found thus :—Roger de Huntyngfeld holds in Bokesworth a quarter of a knight's fee of the king in chief.

On consideration of the above let a writ be made to the escheator to seize into the king's hand all the lands of the lord of Huntingfeld, or the king will lose.

Endorsed :—Be it remembered that this information was sent into the chancery by the treasurer &c. for the king, in case any should wish to sue by writ of diem clausit extremum to have the lands &c. which were of William, son and heir of Roger de Huntyngfeld, out of the king's hand.

Writ of plenius certiorari, whereas by evidences remaining in the chancery it appears that Roger de Huntyngfeld held in Bokesworth a quarter of a knight's fee of the king in chief, and that William his father whose heir he is, son and heir of Roger de Huntyngfeld sometime deceased, paid relief at the exchequer for the same, and that by a certificate of the treasurer &c. sent into the chancery in the time of King Edward II, it is found in the book of fees under the barony of Picot that Roger de Huntyngfeld held in Bokesworth a quarter of a knight's fee of the king in chief, and in the book called Domesday it is noted that Picot holds in Bokesworth three hides and a half by the service due for the said manor, the treasurer &c. of the exchequer are commanded to examine the books of Domesday and of fees, and other memoranda of the exchequer, and certify the king in three weeks from St. Michael next, whether the said Roger held the above of the king in chief as of the crown, or otherwise, 26 August, 11 Edward III. Endorsed, the certificate appears in the schedule annexed.

Schedule. Having examined the books of Domesday and of fees, and other memoranda of the exchequer, upon the contents of the writ returned enclosed, they (the treasurer &c. of the exchequer) find in the book of Domesday under the rubric—Lands of Robert Gernon —as follows :—

In Papesword h[undre]d. In Coutone holds Picot of Robert 1 hide and 1 virgate (extent given).

In Bochesuuorde holds Picot of Robert 2½ hides (extent given).

In Swavesy holds Picot of Robert 1 hide (extent given).

These lands holds Picot the sheriff of Robert Gernon on the marriage of his wife.

In the books of fees in Cambridge, they find :—

Barony of Pycot. Roger de Huntingfeld holds in Bokeswrth a quarter of a knight's fee of the king in chief.

Many other particulars given of fees held of the king in chief and of other honours in cos. Cambridge and Lincoln. (See Testa de Nevill.)

In extracts from rolls of the chancery, 22 Henry III, delivered at the exchequer, it is found thus :—

The king has taken the homage of Roger de Huntingfeld and William de Picheford, who married two of the daughters and heirs of William de Hobrugg, for the lands which the said William held of the king in chief, and which belong to the said wives by inheritance, so that if Hillaria, the third daughter of the said William, to whom it is imputed that she is at Kampes[y] in the habit of religion, should come to seek her share of the said lands, the said Roger and William should render to her her reasonable part ; and the sheriff of Cambridge is commanded to take security from them of 50*s*. and two palfreys.

In similar extracts of 25 Edward I, (it is found) thus :—

Because Joan de Huntingfeld, who held of the king in chief, has died, the king's escheator is commanded [to take into the king's hand] all her lands and tenements, &c.—7 September.

In similar extracts of 26 Edward I, thus :—

The king has taken the fealty of Roger de Huntingfeld, grandson and heir of Joan de Huntingfeld, of Norfolk, for all the lands &c. which the said Joan, grandmother of the said Roger, held of the king in chief, and has restored them to him, and commanded his escheator to take security from the said Roger for payment of his reasonable relief at the king's exchequer, and that he should come before the king, on his next arrival in England, to do homage.—28 November.

In similar extracts of 31 Edward I, thus :—

Because Roger de Huntingfeld, who held of the king in chief, has died, the king's escheator is commanded to take all his lands &c. into the king's hand.—5 December.

And in the same extracts, thus :—

The king has taken the homage of William, son and heir of Roger de Huntingfeld, of all the lands &c. which the said Roger, his father, held of the king in chief, and restored them to him, and the king's escheator is ordered to take security from the said William for payment of his reasonable relief, and to give him full seisin, saving every one's right, and to Joyce (Jocosa), late the wife of the said Roger, her reasonable dower.—4 March.

In the roll of memoranda 33 Edward I, among the fines of Michaelmas term, they find that the said William de Huntingfeld is charged with divers reliefs for the lands which were of his ancestors, thus :—

William de Huntingfeld, son and heir of Roger de Huntingfeld, gives to the king 25*s.* for his relief, for all [the lands &c. which] his father held of the king in chief, viz. for a quarter of a knight's fee in Bokesworth, co. Cambridge, as acknowledged, and as found in the book of fees. And he gives to the king other 25*s.*, for the relief of the said Roger his father, grandson and heir of Joan de Huntingfeld, for all the lands &c. which the said Joan held of the king in chief, viz. the said quarter of a knight's fee in Bokesworth, as acknowledged, and as found in the said book of fees.

In the account of Walter de Gloueester for the escheatry on this side Trent, 31 Edward I, they find that he is charged, amongst other things, for 8*l.* 5*s.* $1\frac{3}{4}d.$ of assised rent, and other issues of the manor of Bokesworth, co. Cambridge, which was of Roger de Huntingfeld, and which he held of the king in chief by service of a quarter of a knight's fee ; the manor of Mokclyntone, co. Essex, which was of the same Roger, and which he held of John Filiol by knight's service ; the manor of Bradenham, co. Norfolk, which was of the same Roger, and which he held of the earl of Lincoln by service of a third part of a knight's fee ; and the manors of Fremton and Toft, co. Lincoln, which were of the said Roger, and which he held of Roger de Pedewardyn and Alice his wife, by service of three knight's fees ; from 20 November, 31 [Edward I], on which day he died, to 5 March next following, before the livery, by the king's writ, of the said manors to William, son and heir of the said Roger.

Whereupon after diligent consultation with the king's justices of the bench, serjeants, and others of the council, they do not know how to put any interpretation on the words in Domesday Book except as they sound, but after consideration of the premises, it does not seem to them that the king should remove his hand from the aforesaid lands, unless any other matter shall be shown by the parties suing, who should be heard thereon.

Certificate made by the deputy of the justice of Ireland, the chancellor, and the king's treasurer there, and by them returned before the king in his chancery in England, by virtue of his writ directed to them.

Transcript of writ to the said justice &c. as above, 20 June, 16 Edward III, on the complaint of the abovesaid William de Bohun, earl of Northampton, and Elizabeth his wife, John de Ver, earl of Oxford, and Maud his wife, William de Roos of Hamelak and Margery his wife, and John Tybetot and Margaret his wife, that, whereas the king lately took their homage for all the lands &c. which the said Giles held of the king in chief in England, and commanded their several pourparties to be delivered to them, and it was found, by an inquisition taken in Ireland, and returned into the chancery there, that the said Giles held of the king in chief on the day he died divers lands &c. in the lordship of Tothemond and elsewhere in Ireland, and divers other lands &c. there of other lords, whereby the wardship of all the said lands &c. of the said Giles in fee pertained to the king, and for that cause were taken into the king's hand, and, for a certain fixed sum to be rendered yearly to him, were by the king's council there committed to Maurice son of Thomas, earl of Desmond; and the said earls, William and John, for themselves and their wives, made suit that the said justice &c. might take care (curaretis) to make their pourparties of the aforesaid lands &c. and deliver the same to them. They [the said justices &c.], however, because it was found by a certain inquisition, which Thomas, bishop of Hereford, then guardian (custos) of Ireland, demanded to be taken at the suit of the said Maurice, who alleged (suggerentis) that all the said lands &c. in Ireland, of which the said Giles died seised in fee, were held of the said Maurice, and not of the king, and who schemed (machinantis) to disinherit the king of the said wardship, that the said lands &c. were held of the said Maurice, on pretext of which inquisition he detains and occupies them, applying the issues to his own use, have not taken care (non curastis) to make the pourparties of the said earls, William and John, and of their wives, of the said lands &c. as the custom is, and to deliver the same to them, although the king and his progenitors have been seised without interruption of the wardship and marriage of the heirs of the said inheritance, and of the wardship of the lands &c. thereof, from the time the same came to the hands of the ancestors of the said Giles, and to those heirs who were minors, and of the homage of the same heirs successively, from heir to heir, as fully appears by the rolls and memoranda in the king's treasury in Ireland, but have permitted the same lands &c. to be detained for a long time out of the king's hand, and still permit it, to the king's hurt and damage, and to the manifest disherison of his crown; wherefore the king has been prayed to cause fitting remedy to be provided, as well for himself as for the said heirs. They are commanded, if on examination of the rolls and other memoranda, they find that the said lands &c. in the parts of Tothemond and elsewhere in Ireland are held of the king, or partly of him and partly of others, and that, by reason of the king's prerogative, after the deaths of the said Giles and his ancestors, the king and his progenitors were seised of the wardship of all the said lands &c., and of the homage of the said heirs in times past, to cause the said lands &c. to be resumed into the king's hand, and to cause due and speedy justice to be done to the said earls, William and John, and their wives, on their suit for restitution of the said lands &c. as of right, and according to the law and custom of Ireland, causing all those who have occupied the said lands, &c. from the time of the said Giles's death, to come to the said exchequer, and to answer for the issues of all the said lands &c. from the time of the said death, certifying into the chancery of England what they have done in the matter. Whereupon the king's writ of the chancery of Ireland was sent to the treasurer, barons, and chamberlain of the exchequer at Dublin as follows :—

Transcript of writ to the said treasurer &c. to the same effect as above, 8 June, 17 Edward III. Teste, John Moryz, deputy of John Darcy, justice of Ireland. By writ of England.

By virtue of this writ the said treasurer &c. remitted into the Irish chancery a certificate as follows :—

Transcript of certificate &c. The present king had the wardship of the lands and tenements of the said Giles de Badlesmere, after the latter's death ; and king Edward I had the wardship of the lands &c. of the said inheritance that sometime were of Thomas de Clare, ancestor of the said Giles, viz.—of the manors of Inchcoyng, co. 186. Edward le Hauberger, son and heir of John le Hauberger.

Proof of age, 27 March, 12 Edward III (fragment).

Middlesex. John Martyn, knight, aged 40 and more, says that the said Edward was 22 years of age on 31 January last, for he was born at Feltham in the said county, and baptized in the church there on the said day, 8 Edward II; and this he knows because on the same day that the said Edward was baptized he saw king Edward II come to the said church at Feltham to lift the said Edward from the sacred font, and to place his name upon him; which fact the said John caused to be written in a certain calendar, and so the said Edward's age is sufficiently certain to him.

Geoffrey Pellam, aged 56 years and more, agrees, and knows it because, in the said church on the same day, after the baptism of the said Edward, at the request of certain of his friends he had pardon from king Edward II for a certain outlawry for the death of John le Ferour, for which he was indicted, and by the date of his charter the truth of the said Edward's age is sufficiently evident to him.

William le Hale, aged 47 years and more, agrees, and knows it because on the said day he was in the town of Feltham with the said John Martyn and several others, when king Edward II came to the church to lift the said Edward from the sacred font . . . . and he asked the said John to cause the said day of birth to be written in his calendar.

John Cosyn, aged 50 years and more, agrees, and knows it because on the same day he was at Westminster before Sir William de Bereford, then a justice . . . . . common bench, in an inquisition between Gilbert Binorth and John Bile, and then in the night, when he had come to his house, he heard from [his] wife that John le Ha[uberger] had a son, to whom king Edward II had given (imposuerat) his name, and by the verdict and record of the inquisition . . . . . .

Robert de Erllesdon (?), aged 53 years and more, says the like, and knows it because, on the same day, he . . . . with the archdeacon of Middlesex . . . . John Bisshop, whose executor he was, and there . . . . lift the said Edward from the sacred font . . . .

. . . ., aged 45 years and more . . . . says that he [was] present . . . . from the sacred font . . . .

Warwick. Proof of age, . . May (?), 15 Edward III (defective).

Ralph de Schyrle, knight, aged 60 years, says that the said Laurence is 21 years of age and more, because he was born at Allesle, co. [Warwick], on the feast of St. Cuthbert 14 Edward II, and was baptized in the church there; and this he knows because at the same time in which the said Laurence was born there was discord between . . . . and John de Peyto the elder, touching a lawsuit pending in the king's court, and peace was restored between them by writing, by the date whereof the truth of the said age is clear to him.

John Gobaud, knight, aged 50 years, says the like, and knows it because at the same time Joan his wife was pregnant, and within a month after the birth of the said Laurence she bore him a son named John, whose birth he caused to be noted in a missal of his parish church, under date of the Incarnation, whereby he is sufficiently sure that the said Laurence is aged 21 years and more.

Nicholas de Charnels, knight, aged 50 years and more, says the like, and knows it because at the same time he was esquire of Sir John de Hastinges, father of the said Laurence, and by a writing remaining with the said Sir John, dated Sunday next after St. Cuthbert, 14 Edward II, on which day came John de Waldegrave and announced from the said Sir John the birth of the said Laurence, the truth of the birth is clear to him.

John Mourdac, aged 50 years and more, says the like, and knows it because on Monday next before St. Cuthbert, 14 Edward II, his [Andrew de] Redewald, aged 50 years, and John de Conyngesby, aged 60 years, say the like, and know it because they were present at the baptism . . . . . between them by indenture that John, the firstborn son of the said Andrew, should espouse the daughter of the said John de Conyngesby, and by the date of the indenture they are sufficiently sure that the said Laurence is of the age of 21 years and more.

. . . . , [aged] . 6 years, says that the said John was born at West [Wytton, co. York], and baptized in the church there, and was 22 years of age at Christmas day last, and this [he knows because Geoffrey le Sc]rop, to whom the king has committed the wardship of the lands &c. which were of the said Isabel until the lawful age of the said John, delivered the same to the said John, as heir of full age, at the feast of St. Martin in the Winter, 13 Edward III.

Thomas de Cleseby, aged 60 years and more, says the like, and knows it because he held a carucate of land in West Wytton for a term of twenty years, by a writing of the same Isabel, which term lapsed two years and more ago.

Thomas de Spenythorn, aged 56 years, says the like, and knows it because, in the same month in which the said John was born, he had a son named William made a monk in the abbey of St. Mary, York, from which time 22 years and more have elapsed.

John Vavasour, aged 58 years and more, says that the same John de Orreby was born and baptized as abovesaid, and this he knows because, at the feast of St. Michael next before the day of the said John's birth, he espoused Margaret his wife, who still survives, from which time 22 years and more have elapsed.

Nicholas de Garton, aged 55 years, says the like with the first juror, and knows it because, within a fortnight next after the day of the said John's birth, he had a son named Robert dead, and buried in the cemetery of the church of West Wytton, from which time 22 years and more have elapsed.

Staunton by Dunsterre. Six messuages, a carucate of land, 8*a.* meadow, 2*a.* wood and two parts of a mill, held for her life, of the demise of the said James de Audele, of John de Mohon by suit at the said John's court at Dunsterre.

398. Thomas de Crauford, barber.

Writ of certiorari to the escheator in cos. Essex, Hertford and Middlesex, on the petition of Ivo Pynchebek, for his good service, for the wardship of a messuage in the parish of St. Clement Danes, without the bar of the New Temple, London, which was of the said Thomas, who held of the king in chief, together with the wardship of John son of the said Thomas, a minor and in the king's wardship, 2 March, 16 Edward III. By p.s.

Writ to the said escheator to take the above inquisition, if he has not already done so, 12 May, 16 Edward III.

Middlesex. Inq. taken at the broken cross (apud crucem fractam) without the bar of the New Temple, 1 June, 16 Edward III.

London. A certain tenement in the parish of St. Clement Danes, without the bar of the New Temple, held of the king in chief in free socage, by service of rendering 18*d.* yearly at the king's exchequer. The wardship of John son and heir of the said Thomas, and of the said messuage, by reason of the said Thomas's death, do not pertain to the king, because the wardship of tenements so held of the king and the wardship of the heirs of the same, ought not to belong to the king but to the next friends of the said heirs to whom the said tenements cannot come by hereditary right. Before these times there was no answer to the king from that messuage, except the rent aforesaid, because it never came into the king's hand through the death of any tenant, so that no issues could be levied, out of which any answer could be made to the king.

John his son, aged 14 years, is his heir.

C. Edw. III. File 67. (6.)

399. Elizabeth daughter and heir of Thomas le Brut or le Bret.

Essex. Proof of age, 2 September, 16 Edward III (defective).

Roger Besiden, aged 60 years, says that the said Elizabeth was 15 years of age on the feast of St. Valentine last, for she was born at Reigham, co. Essex, and baptized in the church there on Thursday the feast of St. Valentine, 1 Edward III, and he well remembers it because he was in the church when she was baptized, and caused to be written the death of his father and the day and year.

John le Parker, aged 50 years, agrees, and knows it because at the Purification next before the birth of the said Elizabeth, his right leg was broken at London, when the present king was crowned at Westminster.

Nicholas Molaund, aged 48 years, says the like, and knows it because on the Sunday after the birth of the said Elizabeth, he came to the house of Thomas le Bret, her father, and bound himself in 10 marks for Richard le Deye, then keeper of the said Thomas's cattle, and by the indentures made between them [the date of] the birth of the said Elizabeth is manifest to him.

Henry the clerk, aged 50 years, agrees, and knows it because at Christmas next after the birth of the said Elizabeth, he became keeper of a tenement of the prior of St. John of Jerusalem in Alvethele, and by the date of the prior's acquittance the age of the said Elizabeth is manifest to him.

Thomas Laurence, aged 50 years, agrees, and knows it because at the feast of St. Peter in Cathedra next after the birth of the said Elizabeth, Roger Laurence, chaplain, his kinsman, was presented to the church of Bernaston, co. Suffolk.

John atte More, aged 50 years, agrees, and knows it because when the said Elizabeth was born, he was in service with the said Thomas her father, and rendered an account on the Sunday after her birth, and by the date of the roll her age is evident to him.

John de Hamelton, aged 40 years, agrees, and knows it because at the feast of St. Michael next after the birth of the said Elizabeth, he took a certain farm of land of Edmund le Gode, to hold for the term of fourteen years next following, and at the feast of St. Michael last he went out from the said farm.

John de Strode, aged 50 years, agrees, and knows it because when the said Elizabeth was baptized, he with others was at a certain reconciliation (diem amoris) between Roger Brid and Walter Skeyn in the church of Reynham, and by the date of the indentures of covenant made between them, remaining in his possession, the age of the said Elizabeth is known to him.

Simon Goldhord, aged 60 years, agrees, and knows it because on the day when the said Elizabeth was born, he was a servant of the manor of Wokyndon, and at the feast of St. Michael next after the said birth he was removed from his office, whereby he remembers the said birth.

William Mountefort, aged 40 years, agrees, and knows it because on the day the said Elizabeth was born, died William Alban whose executor he was, and by the date of the testament the said birth is manifest to him.

William Richer and John Attchulle (ages not given) agree, knowing the said Elizabeth to be of the age of 15 years on Thursday, the feast of St. Valentine last.

The escheator warned Robert de Bolynton, who had the wardship of the lands &c. [of the said Thomas, to be present] to shew [cause why the same] should not be rendered [to the said Elizabeth]. . . . . .

C. Edw. III. File 67. (7.)

400. Joan de Butetourte or de Botetourte.

Writ of plenius certiorari because upon the king's writ of certiorari super causa captionis, touching a third part of a messuage and 24*a.* land, which were of Joan de Botetourte, deceased, in Foxhale, co. Salop, the then escheator in cos. Gloucester, Salop &c. returned that he did not take any such lands &c. into the king's hand, but that they were taken into the king's hand by the late escheator of King Edward II, because Luey late the wife of John de Someri, deceased, held them in dower, of the inheritance of the heir of the said John, and because the said Joan Butetourte and Margaret de Sutton, sisters and heirs of the said John, had not then prosecuted their claim thereto, and for no other cause, 16 February, 16 Edward III.

Salop. Inq. made at Claverleye, 12 March, 16 Edward III.

Foxhale. A third part of a messuage and of 24*a.* land, above mentioned, was taken into the hand of King Edward II by the then escheator, for the reasons above stated, and for no other, and so remains. It is held of Henry de Ferrariis, by service of $20\frac{1}{4}d.$ yearly, and is of the inheritance of John son and heir of Margaret de Sutton, and of John son and heir of the said Joan de Butetourte.

The said John de Sutton and John Butetourte are the next heirs of that inheritance.

Writ of certiorari to the same effect as the above, 3 May, 16 Edward III.

Salop. Inq. 10 May, 16 Edward III.

Foxhale. A third part of a messuage &c. as above.

John de Sutton, aged 28 years at the feast of St. Michael last, and John de Botetourte, aged 26 years at Christmas last, are next heirs of the said inheritance.

C. Edw. III. File 67. (8.)

401. AGNES, LATE THE WIFE OF HUGH HOUEL.

Writ of certiorari to enquire whether the said Agnes was dowered with a third part of the manor of Wyverston and with the advowson of a third part of the church or not, &c. 14 June, 16 Edward III.

SUFFOLK. Return by the escheator that from trustworthy testimony and inspection of the memoranda of John de Cayly, late sheriff of Suffolk, he found that the said Agnes, after the said Hugh's death, lately recovered her dower of the manor of Wyverston, with its appurtenances in Wyverston, Westhorp, Fynyngham and Baketon, and of the advowson of the church of Wyverston, in the king's court at York, before the justices of the Bench, on the quinzaine of St. John the Baptist, 8 Edward III, against Robert de Todenham, parson of the church of Ereswelle, Walter de Wauncy, parson of the church of Groundesburgh, and Hugh de Wauncy, parson of the church of Mulkbertone; whereupon John de Cayly, then sheriff of Suffolk, was ordered to give the said Agnes full seisin of the above, and he commanded the bailiff of the hundred of Hertesmere to execute the same; who on Sunday next after St. Peter ad Vincula, 8 Edward III, delivered to the said Agnes full seisin of the underwritten tenements in Wyverston, Westhorp, Fynyngham and Baketon, viz. of a grange, an oxhouse near the gates of a house called Pressourhous, a hen-house, court and garden &c., also 184*a.* 3*r.* land lying in divers pieces, 12*a.* 1*r.* meadow and 11*a.* 1*r.* pasture (field names given), 27½*a.* wood, the services and customs of free tenants (named), certain bondservants (named), a third part of the advowson of the said church, a moiety of a shepherd's house with a fold, and a third part of the mill, view of frankpledge, fair, market, fishery &c.; which tenements the said Agnes held from the aforesaid Sunday, 8 Edward III, to 10 March, 16 Edward III, on which day the king ordered the escheator to seize the same into his hand, pretending that the wardship of the same pertained to him, as executor and heir of John de Eltham, late earl of Cornwall, his brother, by reason of the minority of the heir of Robert Houel. (Undated.)

403. Geoffrey le Scrop.

Writ to the escheator in co. York. Whereas it was lately found by an inquisition, made by the then escheator, that the said Geoffrey held of the king in chief the manor of Daneby on Wysk and the advowson of the church, and that Henry le Scrop his son, was his next heir and of full age; the king ordered the said escheator to deliver to the said Henry all the lands &c. of the said Geoffrey, which were in his bailiwick; and the said Henry, by reason, as well of the acquisition which the said Geoffrey had made of the said manor and advowson to himself and his heirs, as he pretended, as of the king's said order, entered upon the said manor; but because the king understands that the said Geoffrey held the said manor for his life by the grant of John, late duke of Britanny and earl of Richmond, now deceased, and that he had no other estate therein; whereby, after the said Geoffrey's death, it ought to remain among the other manors &c. of the said earl, to the king and his heirs, by reason of the said earldom being then in the king's hand; the escheator is commanded if, by inquisition in the presence of certain of the king's lieges to be sent to those parts by Philippa, queen of England, to whom the king has committed the wardship of the said earldom, it appears to him that the said Geoffrey held the said manor for his life, as is said, then to take the manor into the king's hand until further orders, and enquire &c. 27 November, 16 Edward III.

The said Hugh enfeoffed John, late earl of Richmond, thereof, to him and his heirs for ever, and the said earl died seised of the same; by whose death the manor descended by hereditary right to John, duke of Britanny, and he granted it to Geoffrey le Scrop for life, who never had any other estate therein. The advowson of the church belongs to the said manor.

She held no lands in fee &c. in the county on the day she died, but she lately held in dower a third part of the manor, after the death of John de Vesey, sometime her husband, son of William de Vescy, second husband of a certain Isabel de Vescy; which John held the said manor to him and the heirs of his body, of the gift and feoffment of the said Isabel, his mother, to whom the said manor reverted after the death of the said John, as above, because he died without heir of his body; and the said Isabel assigned to the said Clemence a third part of the manor to hold in dower. Wilts, which was of the said Oliver, as is said, and which, if the said Oliver were seised thereof in his demesne as of fee, the king wills the escheator to take into the king's hand, so that the king's aunt, Mary countess of Norfolk, to whom he has committed the wardship of the lands of one of the heirs of the said Oliver, a minor and in the king's wardship, or any one of her's, may be present at the making of that extent, and that the said lands may, if necessary, be partitioned anew among the heirs of the said Oliver, and the errors and defects, if any were made in the first partition, may be corrected ; 10 February, 19 Edward III. Writ of scire facias to the sheriff of Wilts; whereas the king lately out of the lands &c. which were of the said Oliver assigned to the abovesaid Roger Lestraunge and Joan his wife, one of the heirs, a moiety of the manor of Westdeone and Estgrymsted, to hold, with a moiety of certain other lands &c. of the said Oliver in other counties, as the pourparty of the said Joan, and commanded the said moieties to be delivered to the said Roger and Joan in the presence of Mary, countess of Norfolk, to whom the king had committed the wardship of the lands &c. which by reason of the minority of Mary daughter of John Curzon, the other heir, were in the king's wardship, as appears by inspection of the rolls of the chancery; and now the said Roger and Joan complain that though the manor, lands &c. in co. Wilts were equally divided into two parts by the late escheator, and a moiety thereof delivered to them, nevertheless, on the suit of the said countess, who declared to the king that more than a moiety had been delivered to the said Roger and Joan, the said moiety so delivered, with the other lands &c. of the said Joan's pourparty, were taken into the king's hand without process against the said Roger and Joan, to their great loss and the manifest disherison of the said Joan, and against the law and custom of the realm, whereof the said Roger and Joan have prayed remedy; the king commands him to warn the said countess to be in the chancery on the octave of St. John the Baptist next, to show cause why the said lands &c. so delivered to the said Roger and Joan in pourparty, and seised into the king's hand, together with the residue of the pourparty of the said Joan not yet delivered, should not be so delivered to them; 12 May, 19 Edward III.

Date of death and heir as above.

YORK. Inq. taken at Est Wytton on Monday before Easter, 19 Edward III.

To the same effect as the preceding inquisition; but it is added that the said William held the manor of Edelyngton by fine levied in the king's court in the following form, viz.—that Richard de Langeford, who was seised of the same in fee, granted it to Henry le Scrop for his life, with successive remainders to the said William, Stephen and Richard &c. and the right heirs of the said Henry; also that the said William gave all the manors &c. in form aforesaid because he was unwilling that they should be divided among his female heirs and for no other cause, as the jurors understand.

Writ of plenius certiorari, the king being informed that the said William held other lands &c. in Berkhampstede Moeles and elsewhere than those contained in the inquisitions returned, 18 April, 19 Edward III.

HERTFORD. Inq. taken at Thele, 22 April, 19 Edward III.

He held on the day he died more lands &c. in the county than those contained in the inquisitions taken after his death, viz.—

Lymeseyesgrove in Beiford. A messuage and 10*a.* land, which sometime were of Bartholomew Aylwene; a messuage and 4*a.* land, which sometime were of John le Zounge; a toft and 3*a.* land, which sometime were of Aylmar; and a croft containing 1*a.* arable, 2*a.* pasture and 2*a.* wood; all held of the king in chief by knight's service.

Commission of plenius certiorari to Thomas de Metham, Thomas de Rokeby and Peter de Richemund, because the king understands that, whereas Richard le Scrop, brother and heir of the said William, sues in the chancery for lands &c. which were of Henry le Scrop, and which the said William held for life, asserting that some of them ought to remain to him by virtue of certain fines levied in the king's court, and some by virtue of certain charters, the said Henry and William as well before the levying of the said fines and making of the said charters, as afterwards at all times, continued their seisin of the said lands &c. without interruption or change of estate: the king has ordered the sheriff to cause jurors to come before them on such day and at such place as they shall appoint; 19 April, 19 Edward III.

YORK. Inq. taken at York on Wednesday after Holy Trinity, 19 Edward III.

A fine was levied in the king's court, 5 Edward III, between Henry Lescrop, [now] deceased, and Richard de Langeford, chaplain, whereby the said Henry acknowledged the manors of Nappaye, West Bolton, Little Bolton, Estbolton in Wendeslawedale, Wendeslaye, Herneby, Fletham, Fencotes, Ellerton-upon-Swale, Bolton-upon-Swale, Uckerby, Bretanby, Caldewell, Croft and Ellyngton to be the right of the said Richard as those which he had of the gift of the said Henry; and for this acknowledgment the said Richard granted the said manors to the said Henry and surrendered them to him in the same court, to hold for his life of the chief lords of the fee by the services thereto belonging, with successive remainders to William, Stephen, and Richard who still survives, sons of the said Henry, and the heirs male of their bodies respectively, and to the right heirs of the said Henry. The said fine was levied in fraud to take away the wardship and marriage from the chief lords of those fees, and because the said Henry was unwilling that the said tenements should be alienated to strangers and his heirs disinherited, or that those tenements should be divided among his female heirs, and not for other causes.

And the said William le Scrop by his charter granted to Thomas de Synythwayt, rector of the church of Watelhous, and to William de Synythwait, rector of the church of Aynderby, all his manors, lands &c. in Crathorn (sic), Estbolton, Westbolton, Bolton Kellok, Thoresby, Preston, Redemer, Wendeslawe, Layburn, Herneby, Walburn, Dounum, Sketheby, Wyclif, Caldewell, Manfeld, Claubek, Ellerton-upon-Swale, Bolton-upon-Swale, Whitwell, Thirntoft, Neuton by Patrikbrimpton, Great Fencotes, Little Fencotes, Disceford, Sledmer, Knotingley, Braythewell, Wermesworth, Wadeworth, Alverlay, Arkesay and Bentelay, to hold with the knights' fees, advowsons of churches, services of free and bond tenants, and reversions of tenants for life or for years, to the said Thomas and William and their heirs or assigns, of the chief lords of [those] fees &c. who, being seised thereof by virtue of the said charter, by another charter granted all the said lands &c. to the said William le Scrop and the heirs male of his body, to hold of the chief lords &c. with successive remainders to his brother Richard and the heirs male of his body and to the right heirs of the said William. Both the aforesaid charters were made in fraud to take away from the chief lords of those fees the wardship and marriage of those tenements.

And the said William held two messuages in the city of York, which messuages he gave in his will to Richard his brother and his heirs, in fraud as aforesaid; which messuages are held of the king in burgage in the said city by service of rendering to him 2*d.* yearly for 'husgable' by the hands of the bailiffs of the said city.

The tenements in Estbolton are held of Ranulph son of Ralph, &c. as in the previous inquisitions, except that the tenements in Wermesworth are said to be held of John de Warenne, earl of Surrey, by service of 12*s.* yearly and by fealty.

Writ of scire facias to the sheriff of cos. Bedford and Buckingham. Whereas the king committed to Master John de Offord the wardship of the said Thomas's lands &c. and by divers inquisitions returned into the chancery it was found that the said Thomas held no lands &c. of the king, except a messuage and 12*a.* land in Hynewyk, but that he held jointly with Alice his wife, who still survives, the manors of Hynewyk, Pabenham, Farendissh and Thenford, and other tenements in Hynewyk, and divers other lands &c. in his demesne as of fee on the day he died, of Henry, earl of Lancaster, Roger de Grey, Elizabeth late the wife of William le Latymer, the abbot of Peterborough, Simon de Drayton and John de Wolverton, on whose behalf and that of William Croiser, who has now married the said Alice, and of the said Alice, it has been prayed that the king would cause his hand to be removed from the said manors &c.; he is commanded to warn the said Master John to be before the king in his chancery on the morrow of the Decollation of St. John the Baptist next, to show why the king should not do as is prayed &c. 11 August, 19 Edward III.

Similar writ to the sheriff of Huntingdon, 11 August, 19 Edward III. Similarly endorsed.

Writ of certiorari to the sheriff of cos. Bedford and Buckingham. Whereas by part of a certain fine lately levied in the king's court between Thomas de Pabenham and John son of John de Pabenham, touching the manor of Wilden, co. Bedford, and the manor of Emberton, co. Buckingham, [and] shown before the king in his chancery, it was found that the said John son of John had granted for himself and his heirs the reversion of the said manors, which Joan late the wife of John de Pabenham, knight, the younger, held for her life of the inheritance of the said John son of John, and which after her death ought to revert to the said John and his heirs, to the said Thomas and his heirs for ever; he is commanded to enquire whether the said Thomas on the day he died was seised of the said manors &c. 12 August, 19 Edward III.

BEDFORD. Inq. Sunday after the Assumption, 19 Edward III.

Wyldene &c. The said Thomas was not seised nor had anything in his demesne as of fee, in service or in reversion in the manor of Wyldene and held no lands &c. of the king in chief in the county; but he held certain lands &c. in Hynewyk, Harewold, Pabenham and Farendissh, as stated in the above inquisition made on Friday before St. Margaret, 19 Edward III.

[Memorandum.] [Master John de Offord says that ?] all the said lands &c. in Hynewyk and Pabenham are held of the king in chief by knight's service and that for that cause all the other lands &c. [which are not ?] so held, of which the said Thomas died seised, ought to remain in the king's hand as wardship. As to the said tenements, of which the said Alice asserts that she was jointly enfeoffed, the said Master John says that a certain Margery, who [was the wife of Nicholas de C]riell, was seised as of fee and right of all the said tenements in Hynewyk, except the said messuage and 12*a.* land held of the king, and of all the said lands &c. in Harewold and Thenford, and she gave the said tenements in Hynewyk and Harewold to the said John de Pabenham [and Elizabeth his wife] and the heirs of their bodies; and the said Margery afterwards, by fine levied in the king's court, . . . Edward I, [acknowledged] the said tenements in Hynewyk and Harewold to be the right of the said John and Elizabeth, and surrendered them to them, to hold to them and the heirs of their bodies; and the said Margery, by another fine in the court of King Edward I, surrendered the said manor of Thenford to the said John and Elizabeth, to hold in form aforesaid, and thereupon presented to the court here . . . of the king's exchequer sent into the chancery by the king's order, which testify this; and the said Master John says that, by virtue of the king's gift, [the said John] and Elizabeth were seised of the said manor of Thenford and of the said lands &c. in Hynewyk and Harewold, except the said messuage and 12*a.*, by form of the gift and surrender aforesaid; and that the said John and Elizabeth had issue the said Thomas, [and that the said Elizabeth ?] after the death of the said John, fully surrendered and demised the estate which she had in the said tenements to the said Thomas, as the son and heir of the said John and Elizabeth . . . to hold according to the gift and fines aforesaid; which said Thomas, as such son and heir, peacefully continued his said estate until [the day of] his death; without that, that Adam, parson of the church of Brockebrok, and Hugh de Fynemere, who, the said Alice pretends, surrendered the said tenements to her and to the said Thomas, sometime her husband, by the fines aforesaid, had anything in the said tenements; and after the death of the said Thomas the said Lawrence his son entered thereupon as his heir, and so the present king, by reason of the said Lawrence's minority, seized the wardship of the said tenements, because the said Thomas on the day he died held of the present king in chief, and committed the said wardship to the said Master John, to hold until the lawful age of the said heir, and he seeks judgment, the premisses having been considered, whether the king ought to remove his hand from the said lands &c. As to the manor of Farendissh, the said Master John says that

Alan de Tadelowe, by fine levied in the king's court, 9 Edward III, between the said John de Pabenham the elder and Elizabeth, plaintiffs; and the said Alan, deforciant, granted that the said manor, which Henry de Farendissh then held for his life, of the inheritance of the said Alan, and which, after the said Henry's death, ought to revert to the said Alan and his heirs, should remain to the said John and Elizabeth for their lives, and then to Margaret, their daughter, for her life, and then to Thomas, their son, and his heirs for ever, and thereupon he exhibited to the court here a part of the said fine, which testifies this ; by reason whereof the said John and Elizabeth were seised thereof after the death of the said Henry, and continued their seisin jointly until the said John's death, after which John his son brought a writ of waste against the said Elizabeth concerning the manor of Pabenham, and recovered the said manor together with damages according to the form of the statute, in execution whereof there was delivered to the said John son of John a moiety of the said manor of Farendissh, to hold until the said damages had been satisfied ; which said John son of John demised the estate he so had in the said moiety to the said Thomas, and afterwards the said Elizabeth demised the other moiety of the said manor of Farendissh to the said Thomas to hold for his life, and so he was seised of the whole manor ; and afterwards as well the said John as the said Elizabeth quitclaimed all their right in the said manor to the said Thomas and his heirs for ever, and so the said Master John says that the said Thomas died sole seised of the said manor, without that, that the aforesaid Adam and Hugh ever had any [estate] in the said manor of Farendissh, whereby he maintains (non intendit) that the king ought not to remove his hand [therefrom]. As to the manor of Pabenham, he says that the said Thomas acquired the same to him and his heirs by a fine levied in the king's court, and in such estate died sole tenant, without that, that the said Adam and Hugh &c.

And the said William Croiser, for the aforesaid lords, says that in the said certificate it was not found in what towns the lands &c. are, for which the said John de Pabenham paid scutage, nor for what lands &c. and by the said inquisitions it fully appears that the said manors of Pabenham and Hynnewyk are held of the said Elizabeth le Latymer by knight's service ; and by another certificate of the exchequer sent to the court here it was found that the said John de Pabenham held of the said King John (sic) the manors of Wylden and Carleton, co. Bedford, by knight's service, and so he says that the said manors are the same tenements for which the said John de Pabenham pays scutage ; in which manors the said Thomas de Pabenham on the day he died had nothing, as was found by another inquisition made thereon and returned into the chancery, whereto the said Master John does not show by record anything to the contrary, nor is any office held which serves the king in this regard, [therefore] he seeks judgment, and that the king may cause his hand to be removed from the said lands &c. which are so held of the said lords. And as to the lands &c. of which it is asserted that the said Alice was jointly enfeoffed with the said Thomas, sometime her husband, the aforesaid William, for himself and the said Alice, says that the said Thomas on the day he died had no estate in the said lands &c. in Hynewyk and Harewold, and in the said manors of Farendissh and Pabenham, unless jointly enfeoffed with the said Alice his wife, according to the aforesaid fines and inquisitions; and this he is prepared to verify.

And the said Master John, for himself and the king, says that the said Thomas died sole seised of all the lands &c. in Hynewyk, Harewold and Thenford, and of the said manors of Farendissh and Pabenham, without that, that the said Adam and Hugh, who, the said Alice pretended, had surrendered the aforesaid tenements to her and the said Thomas, sometime her husband, by the aforesaid fines, were ever seised of the said tenements and manors; and this he is prepared to verify for himself and the king. And the said William says, for himself and the said Alice, that the said Adam and Hugh were seised of the said tenements, and afterwards by the fines aforesaid surrendered them to the said Thomas and Alice, as above alleged, and of such estate [being] jointly [enfeoffed] &c. and this he is prepared to verify. And the said Master John, for himself and the king, likewise, therefore &c. The said Master John also says that the said fee and a quarter of a knight's fee, for which the said John de Pabenham paid scutage, are all the said lands &c. in Hynewyk and Pabenham, and that the said John de Pabenham, who paid scutage &c. had nothing in the said manors of Wilden and Carleton, but that John, son of the said John, afterwards acquired the reversion of the said manor of Wilden in fee, whereby it cannot be understood that the said scutage used to be paid as well for other tenements as for the said tenements in Hynewyk. And the said William says, as to this, that the said Master John alleges that the said lands &c. in Hynewyk and Pabenham are the same tenements for which the said John de Pabenham paid scutage. The said William Croiser, for the aforesaid lords, says that since the said Master John does not show a record, nor whether there was any office by which the contrary of the said inquisitions was proved, he maintains that, by the things so alleged by the said Master John, the said tenements ought not to remain in the king's hand.

And thereupon a day was given to the parties here &c. on the octave of St. Michael, saving to the parties &c. On which day the said parties come, and the said Master John, as well for the king as for himself, says as before &c. and likewise says that the said Thomas by a fine in the king's court acquired in fee [from the said John son of John] the reversion of the said manor of Wilden, which Joan, late the wife of John de Pabenham, held for her life, of the inheritance of John son of John de Pabenham, and thereupon he exhibited a transcript of the note of the said fine sent into the court here, testifying the same; which manor, as the said William above acknowledged, is held of the king by knight's service, and so by reason of that reversion so acquired as if the said Thomas had held the said manor in demesne, the wardship of all the said lands &c. belongs to the king, and he seeks that the said lands &c. may remain in the king's wardship until the full age &c.

And thereupon a day was given to the parties &c. until the quinzaine of Easter next, at which quinzaine the said Roger de Grey and Elizabeth la Latymer come by the said William le Croiser their attorney, and say that by a certain inquisition, taken ex officio and returned into the king's chancery, it was found that the said Thomas on the day of his death had nothing in the said manor, either in demesne or in reversion, and this they are ready to verify. And the said Master John says that, by the allegation of the said William made above, it is supposed that the said Alice, wife of the said William, was enfeoffed jointly with the said Thomas, sometime her husband, of the said tenements in Hynewyk and Pabenham &c. which are so held of the said lords; which estate the said Roger and Elizabeth do not gainsay; and, while that estate lasts, the said lords cannot have the wardship of the said tenements or demand any profit therefrom by reason of such wardship, especially when the said joint tenancy is not yet broken up nor do they deny (?) the fine; which reversion of the said manor of Wilden, which is held of the king as of the honour of Dover, which honour is of the king's crown, the said Thomas acquired, nor do they show any deed, by which he demised the said reversion afterwards with the king's licence. He maintains that they ought not to be admitted to that verification. And afterwards the said Roger and Elizabeth and other said lords having been solemnly called, the said Roger comes by the said William Croiser, and the others did not come. And the said Roger, not acknowledging that the said note had been made, says that though a note of that kind were made, which he does not acknowledge, it does not appear that the said Thomas was seised of the said reversion by reason of the said note, nor that the said Joan had an estate of that kind for her life, nor that the said John, son of John de Pabenham, had such an estate in the aforesaid reversion that he could grant it to the said Thomas, wherefore it is not proved that the said Thomas was seised of the said reversion, and the said Roger is prepared to verify that the said Thomas had nothing on the day of his death in the said manor of Wilden, either in demesne or in reversion, [and] he seeks that the said verification may be admitted. And the said Master John, as well for himself as for the king, says as above that since the said Roger does not deny (?) that the said Joan held the said manor of Wilden for her life . . . said note . . . that the said John, son of John de Pabenham, at the time of the said grant was seised of the said reversion, and granted the same to the said Thomas . . . said note, so that the said Thomas was seised of the said reversion and [was] the king's tenant by reason of the said reversion so acquired as of the right of his crown. And the said Roger shows that the said Thomas demised the reversion of the said manor with the king's licence &c. and, although he shows a special fine whereby he demised the said reversion, if the said demise was made without the king's licence, notwithstanding that demise, his title accrues [to the king?] in this respect . . . to hold . . . aforesaid; wherefore he seeks judgement, if the said verification be admitted, and if &c. [he is] prepared &c.

Afterwards a day was given to the said parties until the quinzaine of St. Michael next, by the king's command, before the justices of both Benches and Robert de Sadyngton, chief baron of the exchequer, and others of the king's council . . . the said William Croyser, in his own proper person, and as attorney for the said Alice his wife, offered that he should be sent before the king wherever &c. on the said plea . . . aforesaid . . . said joint tenancy, as is above alleged, that there might be inquiry thereof by the country . . . to this . . . record before the king wherever &c. And a day was given as well to the said Master John, . . . as to the said William and Alice his wife on . . . St. Hilary before the king, wherever &c. and the sheriff was commanded on the said day to cause to come 12 &c. And the said Roger Gray, being called, did not come, and the other lords did not come. Therefore let the abovesaid lands &c. remain in the king's hand, notwithstanding the allegation or challenge of the said lords. (Undated and defective.)

Writ of certiorari to the treasurer and barons of the exchequer, commanding them to search the books, rolls and memoranda of the exchequer and certify what they find as to whether the manor of Wylden, co. Bedford, or any part thereof, is held of the king in chief or of others &c. 8 May, 20 Edward III.

Return of the treasurer and barons of the exchequer. On searching the rolls and memoranda of the exchequer it was found that John de Pabenham and John le White, late tenants proportionably of the manor of Wilden, co. Bedford, viz. in Michaelmas term, 4 Edward III, acknowledged at the exchequer that they held that manor of the king in chief, as of the honour of Peverell, by service of a knight's fee, and that there are in the said manor twenty virgates of land, each containing 48*a*., and they make one whole knight's fee ; and that the said John le White holds thereof a virgate and 18*a* land by service of a twentieth part, a quarter of a twentieth part and a moiety of a quarter of a twentieth part of a knight's fee, as parcel of a moiety of the said manor, which moiety was sometime of Ralph Tyrel, and thereof the said John le White showed the letters patent of King Edward II of licence to enter upon those tenements ; and that the said John de Pabenham held all the residue of the said manor, viz. the residue of the said moiety of the manor, which was of Ralph Tyrel, by the enfeoffment of William de Norton and Alice his wife, with King Edward II's licence, which he then showed, and the other moiety of the said manor by hereditary descent after the death of John de Pabenham his father, for which moiety he gave the king 50*s*. for relief. It was found moreover in a book of fees extracted from the inquisitions taken ex officio viz. in Bedford, under the heading of names of towns and of those holding them, where there is not a chief honour in the county of Bedford, that Ralph Ridel and Agnes his wife and Helen de Sancto Remigio held of the king in chief half a fee in Wilden, as of the honour of Dover, and that Peter Tyrel held half a fee in like manner in the same [town]. (Undated.)

Writ of certiorari to the treasurer and barons of the exchequer, commanding them to certify the king whether John de Pabenham held any lands &c. in Wyliden or elsewhere in co. Bedford of the king, as of the honour of Dover, 15 June, 21 Edward III.

Endorsed: Let it be enrolled in Holy Trinity term of the year 21, roll 19.

Return of the treasurer and barons of the exchequer. Having searched the rolls and memoranda of the exchequer, and having seen a certificate made at the exchequer in 25 Edward I, by Stephen de Pencestre, then constable of the castle of Dover, by virtue of a writ directed to him for certifying the then barons of the exchequer touching all wardships due to the said castle, and every fee . . . viz. who held them, and how much, and where, it was not found that any mention was made of any fees in co. Bedford held of the king as of the honour of Dover. It was found however in the red book of fees in cos. Bedford and Buckingham, among divers who held knights' fees, under the title of the honour of Dover, thus, 'John de Pabeham, octavam.' And, in a certain book of fees, extracted from inquisitions taken ex officio, which book is had for evidence and not for record, [was found] a certain title, written on the margin of the said book, in cos. Bedford and Buckingham, thus, 'Wilden de honore de Dovre.' It was found, likewise, that John de Pabenham and John le White held the manor of Wilden proportionally &c. (as in a return above given), for a moiety whereof John de Pabenham gave 50*s.* for relief. The said John de Pabenham also acknowledged in the same Michaelmas term, 4 Edward III, that he held of the king in chief a certain wood called Carleton Park in co. Bedford by service of a fifth part of a knight's fee, no mention being made in the said acknowledgment of any honour, for which wood he gave the king 20*s.* for relief. It has not been found at present in the king's exchequer that John de Pabenham held any lands &c. in Wylden, or elsewhere in co. Bedford, of the king as of the said honour of Dover on the day he died, or any other lands &c. in the county of the king in chief or by any service. (Undated.)

Writ, 4 January, 19 Edward III.

Gloucester. Inq. Monday after the Epiphany, 19 Edward III.

Wyke. The manor (extent given) held of the king in chief by service of a quarter of a knight's fee.

Dounameneye. The manor (extent given) held of the earl of Lancaster, as of the manor of Kynemaresforde, by service of half a knight's fee.

He died on Sunday after St. Nicholas last. Peter his son, aged 15 years at the feast of the Purification last, is his next heir.

Writ of certiorari to John de Frelond, Walter de Ciryncestre, Robert Russel and Walter atte Bergh, on the petition of the king's kinsman, Henry, earl of Lancaster, that, since Hugh le Despenser the father, by whose forfeiture the manor of Wyke came to the king's hands, held that manor of another than the king, and those to whose hands that manor afterwards came ought of right to hold it by the same services by which it was held before it so came to the king's hands, and since the manor of Dounameneye, late of the said William, and which is held of the said earl by knight service, the wardship whereof ought to belong to the said earl until the lawful age of the said heir, has been taken into the king's hand by reason of the said inquisition among other lands &c. which were of the said William, the king would order his hand to be removed from the said manor; the sheriff of Gloucester has been commanded to cause a jury to come before them on such day and at such place as they may appoint; 30 January, 20 Edward III. By K. and p.s.

Gloucester. Inq. Saturday after St. Mark, 20 Edward III.

604. Richard le Alblaster.

Writ of certiorari, to the escheator in co. York; whereas on 4 June, 4 Edward III, the king committed to William de Hartlay the wardship of a messuage and four bovates of land in Northgevyldale, which Aliee, late the wife of Richard le Alblaster of Northgevyldale who held of the king in chief, held in dower of the inheritance of the said Richard's heir, a minor and in the king's wardship, to hold until the lawful age of the said heir, rendering for the same to the king 12*s.* yearly at his exchequer, as is more fully contained in his letters patent ; and afterwards, on 18 August last, the king took the homage of Ralph le Alblaster, son and heir of Walter le Alblaster, deceased, who held of the king in chief, who sufficiently proved his age, as was found in the proof returned into the chancery, for all the lands &c. which the said Walter his father held, and the king surrendered them to him and ordered their delivery, as appears by inspection of the rolls of the chancery ; and now, on behalf of the said William, complaint is made that the escheator, on pretext of the said order of the king, delivered the said messuage and land, as parcels of the inheritance of the said Ralph, to the said Ralph, as kinsman and heir of the said Richard, yet nevertheless the treasurer and barons of the exchequer intend to levy the said 12*s.* yearly on the said William from the said 18th of August, to his great expense and injury, whereof he has prayed remedy ; the escheator is commanded to inquire &c. and return what he finds therein ; 25 April, 19 Edward III.

York. Inq. Tuesday after Holy Trinity, 19 Edward III.

A messuage and four bovates of land, which the said Alice held in dower as abovesaid, and which are of the inheritance of Ralph le Alblaster, son and heir of Walter le Alblaster, were lately delivered to the same Ralph, as kinsman and heir of the said Richard, by the escheator, by virtue of the king's writ to him directed.

The said Ralph is next heir of the said Richard by hereditary right, because the said Walter his father was son and next heir of the said Richard, who was thus grandfather of the said Ralph.

607. Oliver de Ingham.

Writ to John de Roches, escheator in co. Wilts; because the king considers the inquisition taken by him after the death of the said Oliver, touching the manors of Deone, Stupellangeford, Hampteworth and Codeford to be suspicious, because of the contradictions and variations found therein, he is ordered to be before the king in the chancery on the quinzaine of St. Hilary next, to give information on the contents of the said inquisition; 10 December, 19 Edward III.

Endorsed:—By virtue of this writ the within-written escheator came into the king's chancery at Westminster in his own person on the quinzaine within-written, and was there diligently examined on a certain inquisition taken by him after the death of Oliver de Ingham, deceased, touching the lands &c. that were of the said Oliver, and returned into the chancery; who, having seen that inquisition, expressly said that that word Codeford, which was placed between the lines in the seventh line of the said inquisition, after the word Hampteworth, was not written nor placed there by himself, but he said that he took a certain inquisition, the copy of which is annexed to this writ, and he delivered it signed to one Thomas de Yippeswich, to be taken into the chancery.'

609. John Fitz Henri or Fitz Henry.

Robert de Eslyngton does the other part of the said service, viz. of sparrowhawk and half mark yearly at the said exchequer, for the lands &c. which he holds of the king in the said towns of Whytyngham, Thrompton and Barton.

Neddirton. Two parts of a moiety of the town held of William Heroun by service of 1*d.* yearly.

Great Ryhill. Two parts of a moiety of the town held of the heirs of Richard Fitz Rauf by service of 1*d.* yearly.

Alburwyk. A cottage held of Alan de Belyngham by service of a rose yearly.

Joan, late the wife of Henry son of John, and mother of John Fitz Henri, holds in dower all the residue of the lands &c. which were of the inheritance of the said John Fitz Henri in the said county, rendering yearly to the said John or his heirs her pourparty of the services aforesaid.

He died in parts beyond the seas, towards the Holy Land, as is commonly said, in the island of Rodes, on 6 July, 19 Edward III. John his son, aged a year and a half, is his next heir.

Writ of certiorari to William de Thorp and his associates assigned to hold pleas before the king, commanding them to certify the alleged defects in the preceding inquisition, on account of which they have deferred and still defer process, 14 February, 22 Edward III.

Endorsed: The reply of William de Thorp appears in the annexed schedule.

Return (undated). It seems to the court that the inquisition, of which he sends a transcript, is defective in this, that it is inserted therein that John Fitz Henri held on the day he died in his demesne as of fee &c. two parts of the site of the manor of Whityngcham, not making mention that he was tenant of two parts of the said manor. It is also defective in this, that mention is made that he held 88*a.* arable and 8*a.* meadow in demesne there, and divers other lands and tenements, of the king by service of a moiety of a sparrow-hawk (nisi) or a moiety of half a mark yearly, to be rendered to the king at his exchequer in the castle of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, not asserting that they are parcels of the said two parts of the aforesaid manor, or of other tenements &c. Also, where it is inserted that Joan late the wife of Henry son of John, who was mother of the said John Fitz Henry, holds in dower all the residue of the lands &c. which were of the inheritance of the said John Fitz Henry &c. the inquisition is defective in this, that it does not declare how much is that residue, nor of what value, nor of whom each parcel is held, nor by what services, nor of whose gift &c. Also, it is defective in this, that in the end of that inquisition it is not expressly or distinctly asserted whether the said John Fitz Henry or the said Joan, on the day the said John died, held any other lands &c. in the same county of Northumberland of the king or of any other or not; and also it is defective in this, that the son and heir of the said John Fitz Henry is named in that inquisition John, son and heir of John Fitz Henry, whereas the proper name of that heir is Henry, as is said.

A moiety of the manor; which moiety was sometime in the seisin of Philippa de Fay, sister and one of the heirs of John de Fay, who held that moiety of Sir Henry sometime king of England, great-grandfather &c. by service of a knight's fee and a half, and in the said King Henry's time gave the said moiety, and other tenements which were held of other lords, to William de Wyntershull and Beatrice daughter of the said Philippa and the heirs of their bodies, but the jurors know not for certain whether they were given in fee simple or in fee tail, or whether they were given to hold of the said Philippa or of the said King Henry; which said Beatrice survived the said William de Wyntershull, and in the time of King Edward I gave the said tenements to Walter her (?) son to hold to him and his heirs. In their judgment the said Beatrice was heir of the said Philippa but they know not for certain whether the said Philippa had a son or not, because they never saw any issue of the said Philippa but the said Beatrice, who survived the said Philippa. From the said Walter all the said tenements descended to the said Thomas de Wyntershull as son and heir, after whose death no lord intermeddled with the said moiety of the manor nor claimed anything there on the ground of lordship. In 9 Edward II it was found by inquisition taken before Robert de Walton, then escheator, that the said Walter held the aforesaid moiety of the manor of one William de Nevill by service of 6*d*. yearly, and the said William held of the said King Edward II by service of a knight's fee and a half ; and the jurors know not if the said William de Wyntershull and Beatrice, or the said Walter, or the said Thomas his son, did or owed any service to the said William de Nevill, his heirs or ancestors, or if the king &c. had or ought to have any service from the said William de Nevill &c. The said William de Nevill and his heirs relinquished lordship, if they had any, in the moiety of the said manor, and utterly refused to receive services therefrom in the full county(court) of Surrey, because they were unwilling to be charged towards the king and his progenitors with the service of a knight's fee and a half for taking a profit of 6*d*. yearly from the said moiety of the manor. There are levied in the moiety of the said manor 10*l*. of yearly rent, to be received from free tenants in Bromlegh, 32*s*. 4½*d*. from works called 'stente' (?), 9*s*. 8*d*. from certain fines of the court of view called 'worthsilver' (?), and 26*s*. 8*d*. yearly from perquisites of court, heriots and reliefs, by estimation.

Which moiety of the manor Henry de Loxle and Alice his wife have occupied from the time of the said Thomas's death and received the profit thereof, by what title the jurors know not.

Lands &c. worth 66*s.* 8*d.* yearly held in service because at the time of the said Thomas's death William de Wyntershull, his brother, held the same for his life of the inheritance of the said Thomas. The said William died on 16 May, 16 Edward III, and Richard atte Welle, of whom the said tenements are held by homage, fealty, and 18*d.* to the king's scutage when it shall happen at 40*s.*, has occupied the said tenements from the time of the said William's death by reason of the minority of the said heir.

676. Robert Houel.

Writ of certiorari to the escheator in Norfolk and Suffolk. Whereas the king lately at the suit of William de Cusance, then his treasurer, who suggested that John de Eltham, late earl of Cornwall, the king's brother, had demised for a term of eight years the manor of Wyverston, which came to the said earl's hands after the death of Robert Houel, who held that manor by knight's service of the said John as of the honour of Eye, then in his hands by reason of the minority of the said Robert's heir, to Walter de Wauney, for a certain sum of money paid to the said earl, with reversion to the said earl, during the wardship and minority of the said heir, and that the said eight years had long elapsed and the wardship of the said manor belonged to the king as executor and heir of his said brother, because the aforesaid heir had not come to his full age, and that the said Walter had occupied the said manor and detained it unjustly from the king, wherefore the king ordered by his writ on 10 March, 17 Edward III, Edward de Cretyng, then his escheator in the said counties, to take the said manor into the king's hand without delay, so that he might answer for its issues at the exchequer, as in the said writ is more fully contained; and now the said Walter personally has prayed the king in his chancery that whereas Hugh Houel, father of the said Robert, had by his charter granted the said manor to Robert de Tudeham, late parson of the church of Ereswell, and to the said Walter and to Hugh de Waunev, parson of the church of Mulkeberton, and the said Robert de Tudeham, Walter and Hugh de Wauney had thereby been seised of the said manor and had continued their seisin, as well in the lifetime of the said Hugh Houel as after his death, until they had been removed therefrom by reason of the king's command, and [whereas] the said manor had been nevertheless in the seisin of the said Robert for some time of his life, whereby the said earl, or the king in his name, could not claim any right by reason of the wardship, that the king would order the said manor, together with the issues received therefrom, to be delivered to the said Walter and Hugh de Wauney: the inquisition is to be made in presence of the aforesaid William or of the keeper of the said manor; 8 July, 20 Edward III.

Endorsed: The inquisition annexed to this writ was taken in the presence of Walter Faeoun, keeper of the manor of Wyverston.

SUFFOLK. Inq. 16 September, 20 Edward III.

Wyverstoun. Hugh Houel on the day of St. Wynwaley, 8 Edward III, granted the manor to the abovesaid Robert de Tudenham, Walter de Wauncy and Hugh, parson of the church of Mulkberton, to hold to them and the heirs of their bodies, who continued their seisin until 15 August, 10 Edward III, when John de Eltham, late earl of Cornwall, seized the manor by reason of the minority of Robert, son of Robert Houel, asserting that it was held of himself, as of the honour of Eye, and so held that manor until 2 September then next following. The said Robert, Walter and Hugh nevertheless sued the said earl by reason of the said feoffment [and] the said earl wholly removed his hands from the said manor, and he had no other seisin or possession in the same ; and the said earl never demised the said manor and wardship to the said Robert, Walter and Hugh or any of them for a term of years, nor in any manner ; and the said Robert, Walter and Hugh continued their seisin from the said 2 September, according to the form of the said feoffment, to 15 March, 17 Edward III, on which day the said manor was taken into the king's hand by Edward de Cretyng, late escheator in the said county, by the king's writ ; it was never in the seisin or possession of Robert Honel, deceased : it is held of Thomas de Munchenessy by service of a knight's fee.

Robert his son, aged 21 years and more, is his next heir.

He died on Thursday the feast of the Holy Innocents last. William his son, aged 2 years and more, is his next heir.

Petition of the countess Marshal to the king, showing that whereas an inquisition made by the escheator, co. Somerset, was returned into the chancery stating that William Carente held certain lands &c. of the king in Hynton Seint George in the said county, as of the king's manor of Hampsted Maresch[al], by virtue of which inquisition the said lands &c. were taken into the king's hand because of the minority of William, son and heir of the said William, and afterwards the king issued a writ to the said escheator to enquire further, whereupon it was found by inquisition that the said lands &c. were held of the said countess as of her manor of Struggoil and not of the king; she has sued continually in the chancery since Easter and can obtain no result because it was found that Hynton in the said county is held of the king. There are several Hyntones in Somerset, to wit, Hynton Seint George, which is held of the said countess, and Hynton Martyn and Hynton without addition; wherefore she prays the king to grant that the said inquisitions may be brought into the King's Bench, so that they may be judged (triez) there, as law and reason demand. (French. Undated.)

Endorsed: Let the parties be heard in the chancery, and if they put themselves in mercy there, let the inquisitions be brought into the King's Bench that right may be done there. (French.)

Mandate to John de Offord, dean of Lincoln (Nicole), chancellor, referring to an inquisition made by Thomas Cary, escheator, co. Somerset, wherein it was found that the said William held certain lands &c. in Henton Seynt George of the king in chief, of his manor of Hampstede Marchal, which is annexed to the king's crown and reserved in his chamber; whereupon the king's aunt Mary, the countess Marshal, has shown by bill that the said tenements are regardant to her castle of Strogoyl and not to the king's said manor, and has prayed him to order a commission under the great seal to the said Thomas, John Aleyn and William de Piloud to enquire further whether the said lands &c. are so held of the king in chief as of the said manor or are regardant to her said castle of Strogoyl. The chancellor is commanded to issue the said commissions and writs to the said Thomas, John and William and to call before him the ministers of the king's chamber to execute the same in due form; 31 May, 22 Edward III. Given under the seal of the Griffon. (French.)

Commission of plenius certiorari to Thomas Cary, John Aleyn and William de Pylond in accordance with the above mandate, 31 May, 22 Edward III. By letter under the seal called Griffoun.

SOMERSET. Inq. taken at Crukerne by virtue of the above commission on Saturday after SS. Peter and Paul, 22 Edward III.

The said William held no lands &c. of the king in chief on the day he died in Henton St. George or elsewhere in the county as of the manor of Hampstede Mareschal, but he held the tenements abovesaid in Henton St. George of the countess Marshal, and of her castle of Strogoil, and not of the king as of the manor of Hampstede Mareschal. They are held in chief of the said countess as of her said castle by service of a sixth part of a knight's fee; of which tenements Walter de Thornhulle and Joan his wife, late the wife of the said William de Carente, hold a third part as dower of the said Joan. The said countess was enfeoffed jointly with Thomas de Brotherton, earl Marshal, late her husband, of the said castle of Strogoil.

Writ to the escheator, whereas the king has pardoned Walter de Thornhull the transgression he committed in marrying Joan, late the wife of William de Carente, without the king's licence, the escheator is commanded to assign her her dower out of the lands &c. that belonged to her late husband in the presence of Henry de Greystok, deputy of the steward of the lands reserved to the king's chamber, to which the king has reserved the said William's lands, 13 June, 21 Edward III. Fragment. (See Calendar of Close Rolls, 1346–1349, p. 229.)

705. Eustacia, [daughter and heir of Peter de Pe]roy and wife of Walter de Heselarton.

Writ to Simon de Grymesby, escheator, to take the proof of age of the said Eustacia, who was born at . . . . . , co. York, and baptized in the church there, as is said, the said Walter saying that she is of full age and he seeks the lands &c. of her inheritance, which are in the wardship of Geoffrey le Scrop by the grant of the king's father, 22 . . , 1 [Edward III].

See Vol. VII. No. 622 (p. 421).

C. Edw. III. File 9. (11.)

706. Reginald son of Reginald.

Writ of plenius certiorari to the escheator in cos. Somerset, Dorset &c.; whereas by an inquisition lately returned into the chancery it was found that Joan de Vyvoun granted to Reginald son of Reginald, and John son of Reginald, the manor of Wolveton, which is held of the king in chief, with the king's licence, to hold to them and the heirs of the body of the same John, with remainder to the said Reginald and the heirs of his body; that the said manor, by virtue of that gift, after the deaths of the said Reginald and John, and of Herbert son of the said Reginald, ought to descend to Reginald son of the said Herbert, as kinsman and heir of the said Reginald son of Reginald, because the said John died without heir of his body; that the custody of the said manor pertains to the king by reason of the minority of the said heir, who is still in the king's wardship; and that Alice, daughter of John Cribbe, and John Caunterel, who married her, have held the manor from the death of the said Reginald son of Reginald; but because the said John and Alice have asserted in the chancery that the said Reginald son of Reginald, who first married the said Alice, by his charter which they proffered, granted the manor to the said Alice long before he married her, to hold to her and her heirs for ever, and had no other estate therein after their espousals than as her husband; and that the said John and Alice by a fine levied in the king's court acknowledged a messuage, a carucate of land, 8*a.* meadow, 50*a.* pasture and 10*s.* rent in Wolveton by Dorcestre, which they pretend is the manor aforesaid, to be the right of Alexander de Stanord, chaplain, who in the same court restored the same to them to hold to them and the heirs of their bodies; and they prayed the king to remove his hand from the said manor; wherefore the king gave them a day in the chancery, viz. the octave of Holy Trinity last &c. on which day they came, and also Edmund Hakelut, to whom the king committed the custody of the lands &c. which were of the said Herbert, deceased, which are in the king's hand by reason of the minority of his heir, and the said Edmund asserted for the king and the heir that the said Reginald son of Reginald was seised as of fee of the said manor on the day he died, and that the said Alice had no estate therein except as his wife: the escheator is commanded in the presence of the said John and Alice, if they wish to be present, to enquire whether the said Reginald son of Reginald was seised of the said manor in fee &c. on the day he died, as the said Edmund asserts, or had enfeoffed the said Alice of the same as the said John and Alice assert, or not &c., 2 August, 6 Edward [III].

FURTHER ADDENDA.

713. Nicholas, brother and heir of Peter de Glamorgan, an idiot.

Writ to the escheator to take into the king's hand the lands &c. of the said Nicholas, who by examination before the Council, has been found to be an idiot, and incapable of managing his lands; and also, to enquire what lands &c. the said Peter had in the bailiwick on the day he died. 24 May, 16 Edward III.

Endorsed by the escheator that there are no lands &c. in his bailiwick of the inheritance of the said Nicholas which can be taken into the king's hands.

Somerset. Inq. taken at Jevele on Friday before the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, 16 Edward III.

The aforesaid Peter held no lands &c. in the county.

Dorset. Inq. taken at Dorcestre on Friday after the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, 16 Edward III.

The aforesaid Peter held no lands &c. in the county.

Writ to the escheator to enquire whether the aforesaid Peter was seised of the manor of Brompton in his bailiwick, and, if so, to take the said manor and the goods and chattels therein found into the king's hand, the said Nicholas having upon examination before the king in the chancery, been found to be an idiot. 12 July, 16 Edward III.

Endorsed by the escheator that he has done as ordered, giving a list of the animals, goods, and crops found.

Somerset. Inq. taken at Ivelcestre Tuesday after St. Mary Magdalene, 16 Edward III.

Brompton. The aforesaid Peter was seised of the manor on the day he died.

Somerset. Writ of plenius certiorari to Thomas Cary, Robert de Hadham, Edmund Gyldene and William de Bynghan, on the petition of Thomas Haket and Amice his wife showing that Peter de Glamorgan lately enfeoffed William Wayte and Richard Esmond of the manor of Brompton and the advowsons of the church and chapel there, to hold to them and their heirs, and the said William and Richard gave the said manor and advowsons to the said Thomas and Amice, to hold for the lifetime of the said Amice, and afterwards granted the reversion of the said manor and advowsons, after the death of the said Amice, to Joan, daughter of John de Glamorgan, who, having received the attornment of the said Thomas and Amice, by her writing granted the said manor and advowsons to them and the heirs of their bodies, with reversion to herself and her heirs, and that the said manor and advowsons, by virtue of a certain inquisition taken after the death of the said Peter by Hugh Tyrel, late escheator in the county, whereby it was found that the said Peter died seised thereof, and that Nicholas, his brother and heir, was an idiot, had been taken, together with the goods and chattels found therein, into the king's hand, and praying that the king would remove his hand from the same and order them to be delivered to the said Thomas and Amice. The sheriff has been ordered to provide a jury. 20 June, 26 Edward III.

SOMERSET. Inq. taken before Robert de Hadham, Esmund (sic) le Gilden and William de Bungham, at Yevele, 7 June, 27 Edward III.

The said Peter was not seised on the day he died of the abovesaid manor and advowsons, because, five weeks and five days before his death, on Tuesday in Whitsun week, 15 Edward III, he granted them by his charter to William le Wayte and Richard Esmund and their heirs; the said William and Richard were seised thereof until Monday after All Saints, 15 Edward III, on which day they granted them by their writing to the aforesaid Thomas and Amice, to hold as above; the said Thomas and Amice were seised thereof until the Gule of August following, when Hugh Tyrel, as abovesaid, took them into the king's hand, the following goods and chattels being there found, viz. 66*a.* wheat, price 30*l.* 12*s.*, 30*a.* . . . price 9*l.*, 10*a.* barley, price 4*l.*, 26*a.* oats, price 4*l.* 16*s.*, 10*a.* flax, price 100*s.*, 10 oxen, price 9*l.* 12*s.*, 6 cows, price 60*s.*, 3 mares, price 55*s.*, 2 foals, price 50*s.*, . . . sheep, price 10*l.*, a sow and nine little pigs, price 13*s.* 4*d.*, 2 beds, price 30*s.*, a waggon . . . s. 4*d.*, a cart bound with iron (ferrata), price 20*s.*, two brass pots, price 18*s.*, two brass dishes, price 4*s.*, one washing basin, price 6*s.* 8*d.*, two ploughs, with all their gear, price 20*s.*; 'euves,' 'fates,' 'tuberels,' 'barels,' price 20*s.*, which goods and chattels belonged to the said Thomas at the time of the taking of the said manor into the king's hand, and they came to the hands of the said Hugh Tyrel, who occupied and administered the same at his will. The jurors are altogether ignorant as to whether the abovesaid William and Richard granted the reversion of [the said manor and advowsons] to Joan, daughter of John de Glamorgan, to hold after the death of the said Amice, or not.

He died on Friday, 24 February, 20 Edward III. Richard Talebot, aged 40 years, is his next heir.

Writ, 1 March, 20 Edward III.

HEREFORD AND THE ADJACENT MARCH OF WALES. Inq. taken at la Mere on Monday after St. Gregory 20 Edward III.

Blanleveny and Bolkedynas. The castles and lordship,—of which lordship a certain part is in the county of Hereford and the residue in the March adjacent to the said county, without the land of the principality of Wales—held of the king in chief by service of one knight's fee and a half.

Date of death as above. Richard his son is his next heir and of full age.

HEREFORD AND THE ADJACENT MARCH OF WALES. Inq. taken at Rosse, Tuesday after St. Gregory the Pope, 20 Edward III.

Lynton. The manor held of the king in chief by service of a knight's fee.

Credenhull. The manor held of the king by service of a knight's fee.

Blanleveny and Bukedynas. The castles and lordship held as in preceding inquisition.

Date of death as above. Richard his son, aged 40 years, is his next heir.

Writ of certiorari to the sheriff and escheator in co. Hereford and the adjacent March of Wales, to enquire on what day the said Gilbert, who in his lifetime held the castles of Blenleveny and Bolkedenas of the king, died, and in what place, and if the lordship of Blenleveny and of Bolkedenas is an honour or not, and in what the profit of the said honour consists, and if the castle and lordship of Crikhowel is held of the king in chief, or of the honour or lordship of Blenleveny and Bolkedenas, and by what service, and if the recovery of the said castles and lordship of Blenleveny and Bolkedenas by Matthew fitz Herbert against Richard Talebot, before the justices of the Bench lately made, as is said, by collusion, was made to defraud the king of any right pertaining to him in that behalf, and if so, then of what right, and by whom and when the collusion was made, and if the said Matthew alienated, or not, the said castles and lordship, after the said recovery, to the said Richard, without the king's licence, and if so, when. If it shall be found that the said castles and lordship were so alienated by the said Matthew without the king's licence, then the escheator is to take them into the king's hand. 27 June, 26 Edward III.

HEREFORD AND THE ADJACENT MARCH OF WALES. Inq. taken in the castle of Hereford on Wednesday, the feast of St. James, 26 Edward III.

Sir Gilbert Talbot died on the night following Monday, 20 February, 20 Edward III, but whether he died soon after midnight, or in the last quarter of the said night, the jurors know not. He died at Ekleswalle. The lordship of Blanleveny and Bulkedenas is denominated honour and lordship, and nine knights' fees are held in chief thereof. There are there the advowsons of two churches, one of no value, the other extended at six marks ; also, pleas of the crown, with sale of felons and other pleas ; likewise a forest. The castle and lordship of Crikhowel is held of the lordship and honour of Blanleveny and Bulkedenas by service of four and a half knights' fees. The lord of Crikhowel shall do suit of court at the court of Blanleveny and Bulkedenas, from court to court. There are other services of which at present they are ignorant. As to the recovery of the said castles and lordship of Blanleveny and Bulkedenas by Matthew fitz Herberd against Richard Talbot, made before the justices, it was made by no collusion or fraud to the king. As to the alienation of the same made to Richard Talbot by the said Matthew, without the king's licence, they know not.

Writ of certiorari super vero valore, 10 July, 26 Edward III.

Hereford and the adjacent March of Wales. Inq. taken in the castle of Hereford on Saturday after St. Margaret, 26 Edward III.

The castles and manors of Blanlevene and Bulkedenas, with the demesnes, lordships, homages &c. thereto belonging, are worth 80*l.* 5*s.* 3*d.* yearly.

Writ of ad quod damnum to the aforesaid Richard de Brugge touching the restoration to Richard Talbot and his heirs, of the castles, manors, lordship and honour of Blenleveny and Bulkedynas, which he acquired, without the king's licence, of Matthew fitz Herebert, who held them of the king in chief, and which by reason of the said trespass were taken into the king's hand. The escheator is also to inquire what lands &c. remain to the said Matthew besides the aforesaid ; 1 August, 26 Edward III.

Hereford and the [adjacent] March of Wales. Inq. taken at Gokrate by le Mere of Blaynleveny on Friday, the feast of St. Lawrence, 26 Edward III.

The honour and lordship of Blaynleveny are worth 80*l.* 10*s.* 3*d.* yearly. No lands &c. remain to the said Matthew. If the king grants the said lordship to the said Richard the loss to him is the aforesaid value, and there is no prejudice to others.

Hereford and the [adjacent] March of Wales. Inq. taken at Hereford, Sunday after St. Lawrence, 26 Edward III.

It is not to the loss or prejudice of the king or of others.
No lands &c. remain to the said Matthew.

Petition of Richard Talbot to the king and his council, that, whereas Gilbert Talbot, his father, died seised of the lordship and castles of Blaynleveny and Bolkedenas, after whose death they were seised into the king's hand, because they were held of him, and afterwards by an inquisition under a writ of diem clausit extremum, were delivered to the said Richard as his son and heir, because it was found by the same inquisition that the said Gilbert died seised of the said castles and lordship, because they had been granted to him by the king for his life, and afterwards confirmed by letters patent to hold to him and his heirs, after which delivery the king received the homage of the said Richard for the same ; which estate the said Richard continued until, with the king's licence, he enfeoffed Thomas Talbot, clerk, of the said castles and lordship, to hold to him and his heirs ; and afterwards the said Thomas, with the king's licence, granted the same to the said Richard and Elizabeth, to hold to them and the heirs of the said Richard, which estate the king by his letters patent confirmed ; afterwards Mayewe le fitz Herebert recovered from the said Richard and Elizabeth in the king's court the said castles and lordship, by a writ of entry of disseisin made to Herbert his father by title of right, without collusion or covin, as is found by an inquisition taken and returned into the chancery, after which recovery the said Maiewe enfeoffed the said Richard of the said castles and lordship, without licence obtained of the king, wherefore the same were seised into the king's hand, and still remain there; may it please the king and his council to command the chancellor to receive a suitable fine from him for the said trespass, and further to make restitution to him [the said Richard] according to the laws and statutes of the land, so that there may be no stay of restitution in having the said castles and lordship, because of any inquisition taken during the king's seisin to which the said Richard was not a party, and after that restitution made to him, he will be ready to answer the king and any other where and when they please. (Undated.) (French.)

Endorsed that because, by the first charter made to Gilbert Talebot of the lordship and castles of Blenleveny and Bolkedenas for the term of his life, the reversion thereof belonged to the king, and, by the second charter of confirmation, made after the death of the said Gilbert, no right of fee simple accrued, or could accrue, to the said Gilbert or his heirs, so that the whole right of the said reversion, after the said Gilbert's death, always remained, and still remains, in the person of the king, and since the said lordship and castles are now taken into the king's hand for just cause, viz. for alienation thereof made without the king's licence, which alienation the said Richard knew, and the king is now informed of his right, which accrued to him by the death of the said Gilbert, as is found by the said inquisition, the council is advised that the king ought not to take a fine for the said trespass, nor to withdraw his hand, before the said Richard has tried and discussed his right before the king in that behalf, if the said Richard wishes to sue. (French.)

Endorsed, Memorandum that Richard Talbot came into the chancery at Westminster on 26 October, 26 Edward III, and exhibited this bill to J. bishop of Worcester, the king's chancellor, praying him to do him justice on its contents.

Petition of Richard Talbot and Elizabeth his wife to the king and council.

Whereas the said Richard enfeoffed, with the king's licence, Thomas Talbot, clerk, to him and his heirs, of the lordship and castles of Blanleveni and Bulkedinas, and the said Thomas re-enfeoffed the said Richard and Elizabeth thereof, with the king's licence, and against them Mayeu le fiz Herbert brought his writ of entry of a disseisin made to Herbert his father by one John le fiz Reynald, of the aforesaid lordship and castles, and recovered against them by title of right, without fraud or collusion, and was seised thereof by the said judgment, and afterwards enfeoffed the said Richard and Elizabeth his wife and the heirs of the said Richard, of the lordship and castles aforesaid with warranty, without the king's licence, on account of which the same were taken into the king's hand, and for which they have proffered a fine, and cannot obtain livery, because it was afterwards found by inquisition that the king gave the said lordship and castles to Gilbert Talbot, his [the said Richard's] father for his life, and afterwards confirmed the same to the said Gilbert and his heirs for ever, but the said Gilbert died before the said confirmation, as was found by the same inquisition, which the said Richard and Elizabeth will be ready to traverse, if they can claim the estate of the said Gilbert, which they cannot do, because of the recovery aforesaid, which was of a higher and older right, before the king or his father ever had anything therein, which right the said Richard and Elizabeth will be ready to maintain; may it please the king to order his chancellor to hear their petition, and further to do to them what reason and law demand. (Undated.) (French.)

Endorsed : The king delivered this petition to the archbishop of York, his chancellor, on St. George's day, in the 27th year of his reign, to do right and reason as touching its contents. And afterwards, on the quinzaine of St. Michael following, the said business was adjourned to the quinzaine of St. Hilary ; and afterwards, on the quinzaine of St. Hilary, the said business was continued in the same state to the quinzaine of Easter next. (French.)

Duplicate of the above Petition. (Undated.) (French.)

Endorsed, Memorandum that this bill was delivered to the chancellor on 16 February, 27 Edward III, to do right to the said Richard and Elizabeth, according to the effect thereof. (French.)

Writ of dedimus potestatem to William de Chiltenham to receive the attorneys of Elizabeth, the wife of Richard Talebot, both of whom pray that the castles and lordship of Blenleveny and Bulkydenas, which for certain causes are in the king's hand, may be delivered to them ; 16 February, 27 Edward III.

Endorsed by the said William, giving the names of the attorneys.

Petition of Richard Talbot, knight, to the chancellor. Whereas the king gave the castles and lordship abovesaid to Sir Gilbert Talbot for life, and afterwards confirmed the same to him and his heirs for ever, after whose death the said Richard entered upon them as his son and heir, as is found by process made before the king in the chancery ; and afterwards the said Richard by the king's licence gave the same to Thomas Talbot, clerk, to re-feoff the said Richard and Elizabeth his wife and the heirs of the said Richard, as appears by the king's letters patent made at Calais ; after which confirmation, Maiheu le filz Herberd brought a writ of entry based on the disseisin against the said Richard and Elizabeth, of a disseisin made to Herberd filz Johan his father long before the king had any possession, and the said Richard by his counsel perceiving that the said Maiheu had right in his action, and that his [own] estate was not sure, by the gift or grant or confirmation which he had of the king, unless he had estate from the said Maiheu, which estate is higher than the king's possession was, because the king had granted the reversion of the said castles and lordship, after the death of Sir Gilbert Talbot his father, who held them for life by the king's gift, to Sir Henry de Ferrers and his heirs for ever, before the confirmation had been made to the said Gilbert his father, or to himself, wherefore the said Richard and Elizabeth suffered the said Maiheu to recover the said castles and lordship from them as his right, by which recovery the possession of the king and of all others was undone, because the said recovery can be maintained as good and lawful, without collusion or fraud towards the king or any other, after which recovery the said Richard purchased the said castles and lordship of the said Maiheu, to him and his heirs for ever, which castles and lordship are held of the king in chief, whom [the said Richard] prays to take a suitable fine from him for the purchase, as ordained by statute. (Undated.) (French.)

Endorsed : this petition was disavowed (dedicta) by Richard Talbot and quashed by consideration of the court.

C. Edw. III. File 82. (18.)

The said manor is held of the earl of Rich[mond] in socage.

Fulborne. A manor there held jointly as above, of the same earl, in form aforesaid, rendering yearly for the said manors a pair of gilt spurs, price 6*d.*, or 6*d.*

Another manor in the said town held jointly as above, in form aforesaid, of the bishop of Ely by knight's service.

He died on Sunday after St. Martin last. Hugh his son, aged nine years and more, is his next heir.

Writ, 13 February, 28 Edward III.

Cambridge. Inq. taken at Cambridge on Wednesday after St. Peter in Cathedra, 28 Edward III.

Fulbourn. Sixteen pounds yearly rent from free tenants in the said town, parcel of the manor of Fulbourn, which sometime belonged to William la Zouche, father of the said Alan. The manor (excepting the said rent) the said Alan held on the day of his death jointly with Eleanor, his wife, who still survives, of the gift of Nicholas Kebe and John Kebe, chaplains. A parcel of the said manor, together with 11*l.* of the said rent, is held of the earl of Richemond by service of one mark yearly and another parcel of the said manor, together with 100*s.* of the said rent, is held of the bishop of Ely by knight's service.

He died on this side (citra) All Saints, 20 Edward III. Heir as above, aged 15 years and more.

Writ of certiorari super causa capcionis, touching the manor of Fulbourn and 16*l.* rent of Nicholas Damory and Eleanor his wife. 3 May, 28 Edward III.

Return by Guy Seintcler, escheator co. Cambridge, that he has not taken the said manor into the king's hand; but, on the death of the said Alan, and by virtue of the above inquisition taken before the said escheator at Cambridge in 28 Edward III, he took into the king's hand the above 16*l.* rent in Fulbourn, and, by virtue of the king's writ directed to him, has caused the same to be delivered to John de Beauchaump, to hold as in the said writ is more fully required. Undated.

Writ of scire facias to the sheriff of Cambridge, referring to the above inquisition touching the 16*l.* rent in Fulbourn, the custody of which, by reason of the minority of Hugh, son and heir of Alan, ought to pertain to the king. As Nicholas Dammory and Eleanor, his wife, now hold the said rent, the sheriff is to warn them to be in the chancery on Wednesday after the Ascension next, to show cause why the said rent should not be taken into the king's hand until the lawful age of the heir and be accounted for from the time of the said Alan's death. 10 May, 28 Edward III.

Endorsed by the sheriff that he has warned the aforesaid Nicholas and Eleanor by Robert Frebern and William in le Netherstrete.

Memorandum that Nicholas Dammory, 'chivaler,' and Eleanor, his wife, have appointed William de Dyghton their attorney to sue for the restitution of certain lands &c. in Fulbourn, which have been taken into the king's hand. Undated.
